China Declares War on New Independent Manchurian State

TO SEND EXPEDITION TO MANCHURIA; JAPS LAND TROOPS AT WOOSUNG

Eight Ships Carrying Japanese 14th Division and Other Contingents Arrive on Battle Front

Shanghai, March 5.—(U.P.)—The Chinese nationalist government issued a virtual declaration of war on the new independent Manchurian state today while rioting threatened foreign concessions here and Japanese and Chinese forces planned further fighting.

To Attack Manchurian Forces
The first act of a new military council created by the central executive committee of the Chinese government was to order a punitive expedition against the Manchurian state. The committee meeting at Loyal was attended by government and military leaders.

According to the opinion of Chinese leaders here, the expedition will be headed by Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, ousted as Manchurian overlord by Japanese, and Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian general," who still heads a powerful military force. Marshal Chang had a loyal army of 25,000 men in the Chinchow area before he ordered his men to retire within the great wall of China at Shangkaiwan. The Loyal meeting refused to accept the resignation of Wang Ching-Wei, chairman of the executive yuan.

Chairs Fire on Farmers
The Chinese Kuomin news agency reported that on Friday and Saturday, Japanese airplanes flew over the Soochow and Quinsan districts, firing on farmers in the fields with machine guns.

Eight troop ships carrying the Japanese 14th division arrived at Woosung and other contingents landed at Pootung.

The Kuomin report said severe fighting was in progress on the Kiating-Nanzhang front and at Liuhio. It was announced officially that adequate Chinese reinforcements had arrived and were prepared for more effective resistance.

To Investigate Cession
Washington, March 5.—(U.P.)—The state department, acting through the navy department, today authorized Admiral M. M. Taylor at Shanghai to cooperate with the British, French and Italian naval commanders in determining whether hostilities there actually had ceased.

The state department is prepared to leave active settlement of the dispute to the League of Nations.

To Uphold Basic Points
No further diplomatic proffers are planned. But American representatives, in consultation with the league, will strive to uphold the basic points in Secretary Stimson's note of Jan. 7 to Japan and China and in his recent letter to Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee. These points are:

1. No settlement of the Japanese-Chinese dispute shall recognize the legality of any Japanese gains made by force in violation of the Kellogg pact. The United States will not recognize the new Japanese-dominated regime in Manchuria.

2. No settlement shall violate the trade rights of the nations in China, now enjoyed under the "open door" policy.

3. No settlement shall limit China's sovereignty.

Rejoins Chinese Air Forces

San Francisco, March 5.—(U.P.)—Bert Hall, former American war flier with the Lafayette escadrille, was aboard the liner President Harrison today bound for Shanghai to rejoin the Chinese air forces.

Hall made every effort to conceal his identity when he boarded the liner just before it sailed, but later he admitted to friends that he had been asked to return to China by T. V. Soong, former government finance minister.

The aviator once served in the China forces and was known as General Chan. He came to the United States several months ago to buy planes and later was sued by the Chinese for return of the money. Last week the suit was dismissed when Hall bought the planes.

Jap Engineer Assassinated

Tokio, March 5.—(U.P.)—Baron Takuma Dan, 74, engineer and head of the powerful Mitsui interests, was assassinated today by Goro Hishinuma, young Japanese from Ibaraki prefecture.

Fergus Falls Man Named to Distribute Seed Loans

Fergus Falls, Mar. 5.—(U.P.)—Fred E. Hodgson, Fergus Falls real estate dealer today learned he had been named by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde to handle distribution of the national seed grain loans to farmers in seven northwestern states. He will work with Lawrence J. Paulson, Albert Lea. Headquarters will be set up in Minneapolis. It is expected that the northwest states will receive approximately $25,000,000 for general distribution.

J. S. Ulland, Fergus Falls, was largely instrumental in obtaining the appointment for Hodgson.

Hodgson's salary was reported to be $5,000.

COAST GUARDSMEN BATTLE GAS ATTACK TO TAKE RUM BOAT

Woods Hole, Mass., March 5.—(U.P.)—A skirmish between coast guards armed with machine guns and alleged rum smugglers who loosed some form of gas attack, ended early today in capture of the Boston speedboat Kelble near Warren Point, R. I.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Cecil McLeod and the crew of the speedy CG-813 captured the 63-foot, 32-ton motorboat valued with its cargo at possibly $100,000, after an exciting six-minute chase.

McLeod reported that during the pursuit the motorboat zig-zagged a crazy course at high speed as the 813's machine gun fire raked its stern and one side. He charged that the Kelble's crew of six replied with some form of a gas attack new in his experience as a rum chaser. The gas was not in the form of a smoke screen occasionally used by smugglers in New England waters, according to McLeod.

It was after the Kelble had ignored three flares set up by the coast guards that the 813 began pursuit. None of the Kelble's crew was injured by the machine gun fire.

NICKOLAS KAUFMAN, LOCAL MAN, DIES IN MILL CITY HOSPITAL

The body of Nicholas Kaufman, Northeast Brainerd resident who died last night at a hospital in Minneapolis, will be returned to Brainerd tonight.

Mr. Kaufman is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Harry Peterson, Brainerd, Mrs. E. Z. Fisher, Superior; and one son, Bernard Kaufman, Brainerd.

Virginia Ratifies "Lame Duck" Amendment

Richmond, Va., Mar. 5.—(U.P.)—The state of Virginia is the first to ratify the Norris "lame duck" constitutional amendment.

Tiny monarch of all he surveys, at right is Master Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., celebrating his first birthday party last June 22, while his curly-dog playmate stands by. Charles, Jr., was just longing to grab the candle when picture, never before published, was snapped in garden of Morrow home.

C. I. Staples Meet In Finals District Cage Meet Tonight

Both staving off defeats by strategic stalling to survive the semifinals in the 25th district basketball tournament here last night, Crosby-Ironton will meet Staples tonight at 8 o'clock to determine which team will represent this section in the regional tournament in Alexandria.

Staples defeated Brainerd 19 to 17. Crosby-Ironton eked out a 28 to 27 triumph over Little Falls. Box scores and other details of the game will be found on page five.

OHIO KIDNAP VICTIM FOUND ALIVE; TAKE TWO INTO CUSTODY

Youngstown, O., March 5.—(U.P.)—James DeJute, Jr., 12, was found alive today in a house on the Hubbard road here. County Detective W. J. Harrison reported. The boy was kidnapped while on the way to school Wednesday. Two men are reported under arrest.

The boy is being rushed to his home in Niles, accompanied by Trumbull county officials.

The boy, known to his playmates as "Jimmy," was dragged into a motor car on the streets of Niles just 10 hours after the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh was kidnapped from their home at Hopewell, N. J.

The DeJute boy was found in an abandoned house. He had not been harmed. A tip received by Police Chief B. J. Gillen of Warren led to finding of the youth. Gillen said he could not reveal its source. The house where the boy was found is a mile north of the Youngstown city limits.

Discuss Colonization Plans for 50,000 Doukhobors of Canada in S. A. or Mexico

Winnipeg, Man., Mar. 5.—(U.P.)—Colonization plans for 50,000 members of the Doukhobor sect in Canada and Europe who wish to settle on farms in South America or Mexico were discussed today by leaders of the sect and representatives of land holding companies from the United States and Great Britain.

J. M. Hackney, president of the International Colonization Corp., of St. Paul, said he was confident that colonization plans of the sect would involve his new land grant in the Republic of Columbia, where he said he has 1,500,000 acres of land to be colonized.

Hackney last summer arranged to move Canadian Doukhobors to Mexico, but the project fell through after sect leaders visited the site for the colony. Others who are taking part in the conference with Doukhobor leaders are Nathan B. Kellogg, Chicago and B. J. Straus, New York. Hackney was a member of the Hackney-Boynton Co., which in 1901 colonized portions of North Dakota on the Northern Pacific railroad land grant.

SAILOR FRIEND NURSE LINDBERGH BABY HELD; QUESTIONED BY POLICE

United Press Offers Act as "Go Between" Lindbergh Kidnaping

by United Press

To those holding Baby Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.—

Colonel Lindbergh has given his pledged word that you will be fully protected if you get in touch with him, receive the $50,000 demanded and return his child. The colonel can be relied upon to keep his word. The county prosecutor likewise has pledged protection.

If, for any reason, you are unwilling to get in touch directly with Colonel Lindbergh, you may do so through any office of the United Press—New York, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Washington, Boston, Albany, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Atlanta, Raleigh, St. Paul or any other large city.

The United Press will convey direct to Colonel Lindbergh, without any intermediary and with the utmost secrecy, any message you care to send. Such message will NOT be published nor shown to anyone, other than members of the Lindbergh family. The message should be accompanied by some sign or indication that it is authentic.

CRIME EXPERTS MAP OUT PLAN TO TRACK DOWN KIDNAPERS

Trenton, N. J., March 5.—(U.P.)—High police officials and crime investigators from a dozen cities gathered here today to map out an organized and concerted effort to track down the Lindbergh kidnapers and save the Lindbergh baby.

The officials assembled in Gov. A. Harry Moore's office, from which the press was barred.

The ladder used by the kidnapers was brought in a police car and taken in to them.

Among those at the conference were:

Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney of New York.

Chief Inspector John J. O'Brien of New York.

Inspector John Ryan of New York.

John A. Swanson, state's attorney, Cook county, Ill.

Lt. William J. Cusack, Chicago.

Pat Roche, chief investigator, Cook county detectives.

William P. Walters, Trenton.

Inspector William J. Collins, Detroit.

Commissioner Russell Roach, Buffalo, vice president of the International association of police chiefs.

William J. Egan, commissioner of public safety, Newark.

Mayor Frank Hague, Jersey City.

Chief Thomas J. Wolfe, Jersey City.

John Milton, counsel to Gov. Moore.

Capt. James McDevitt, deputy superintendent of police, Boston.

Thomas E. Edward Bligh, chief of detectives, Massachusetts state police.

William E. Mills, superintendent of police, Philadelphia.

Kern Dodge, director of public safety, Philadelphia.

Chief Joseph H. Gerk, St. Louis.

Commissioner Edward A. Riley, Newark.

Detroit, March 5.—(U.P.)—William P. Rutledge, former Detroit police commissioner and now head of the Wyandotte, Mich., force, today wired New Jersey state police suggesting that the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby be asked to send fingerprints of the child.

The prints, Rutledge pointed out, could be compared with those taken from the child's toys and in this way the Lindberghs would know if they were dealing with the real kidnapers or imposters.

Englewood, N. J., March 5.—(U.P.)

—The movements of Henry Johnson, friend of Betty Gow, the Lindbergh nurse maid, on the night of the kidnaping and following day were detailed today by T. W. Sherman, son of the proprietor of the rooming house where Johnson lived.

"WAS HOME ALL NIGHT"
Sherman said Johnson came home after dinner on Tuesday, the night of the kidnaping. He did not note the time especially, but it was between 7 and 8 p. m.

Johnson stayed home all night, Sherman said, and left at about 9 a. m. Wednesday, saying he was going to drive to his brother's home.

Before leaving in the morning, Sherman continued, Johnson saw the morning paper and read the story of the kidnaping. Sherman said Johnson was obviously surprised as well as incredulous. He insisted he "did not believe a word of it," because he had talked to Miss Gow by telephone the evening before, and she knew of no kidnaping.

Defends Johnson
Sherman staunchly defended Johnson.

"The boy's all right," he declared. "He is in a jam merely because he was acquainted with a member of the Lindbergh household. If there is any confusion about his exact movements and the exact time of them, it is not surprising. It is hard for anyone to recall exact times and circumstances, if he has no reason for making note of them at the time."

Hartford, Conn., March 5.—(U.P.)—The exact whereabouts of Henry Johnson, suitor of the Lindbergh baby's nursemaid, on the night the baby was kidnapped brought further questioning of him today.

He has told one story. Authorities are represented as doubting it. Shortly after the all night questioning of him had been interrupted Prosecutor Hugh M. Alcon announced:

Recounts Movements
"He is being held on the strength of his own story."

The dapper red haired Johnson, who has admitted keeping company with pretty Betty Gow, the nursemaid, for three years, reportedly was told authorities he had a date at 5 p. m. with Betty Tuesday evening—the kidnaping evening. This was not kept, it was said.

At 9:15, according to his story he left for Hartford, Conn., in his automobile and arrived at Hartford at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday. Against this authorities are represented as having received information that he did not arrive in Hartford until 3:30 p. m. Wednesday.

He made no denial of his association with the comely Scotch nursemaid and told of having had engagements with her over the week end.

Mrs. W. T. Sherman, at whose home Henry Johnson roomed here said today that Johnson was at home all Tuesday evening although he did not retire until late Wednesday morning.

She would not say how he had occupied himself during the evening.

Employed As Sailor
During the summer, Johnson is employed as a sailor on the private yacht of Thomas W. Lamont, a partner of J. P. Morgan & Co. He has been described as an excellent sailor. His brother, John, is a chauffeur and is well thought of in the community where he resides.

Hopewell, N. J., March 5.—(U.P.)—The Lindberghs waited and hoped today for a response to their broken hearted appeal that the abductors of their baby trade its return for their own safety and a cash ransom.

Their own direct appeal, offered through the newspapers of the nation, and the news services that have sent the story of the kidnaping around the world, was believed to promise more definite results than any other development.

These other developments included: Detention and questioning of Henry Johnson, an alleged sweetheart of the baby's nurse, at Hartford, Conn.

A mobilization of criminal hunting agencies of the entire nation at Trenton today to plan an effective hunt for the kidnapers.

Further questioning of servants, and former servants, including Betty Gow, the baby's nurse, and Marie Cummings, former nurse of Anne Morrow Lindbergh.

Chapter of Tradey Enters Lindbergh's Life, Turns Lucky Days Into Sorrow

"Lucky Lindy," they called him. Four times he cheated death thousands of feet in the air by leaping with his parachute. Once when his plane collided with another 10,000 feet over Kelly Field, Texas. Again when his ship went into a dreaded spin. And twice when mail planes ran out of gas in heavy fog on the Chicago-St. Louis run.

"Lucky—and resourceful," they said, when he piloted the glistening Spirit of St. Louis across the treacherous Atlantic to Paris in 1927. Overnight he became a world hero, the idol of youth, worshiped by millions, feted by kings and queens.

Before he was 26, some 30,000,000 persons had cheered him. He was called the "ambassador of good will," and carried that portfolio to more than half the capitals of the world.

And then, in 1929, the hands of fate began writing a new chapter—a chapter of tragedy—into the colorful story of Charles A. Lindbergh.

He took his bride-to-be, Anne Morrow, for a flight at Mexico City, a few weeks before their marriage. A wheel came off and the plane turned over in landing. Lindy's shoulder was dislocated. His fiancée was less seriously hurt.

Then, in the summer of 1931, Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh started on what they expected to be a carefree vacation flight to the Orient. Their plane was forced down in the Pacific and they narrowly escaped death. The plane upset in the Yangtze river hurling both occupants into the water. Lindy flew with medicine to aid the stricken millions in China's flood area and those he sought to aid mobbed the plane because they thought he carried food.

The vacation ended abruptly in mourning when the famous flyer and his wife, thousands of miles from home, received news that Mrs. Lindbergh's father, Senator Dwight W. Morrow of New Jersey, had died.

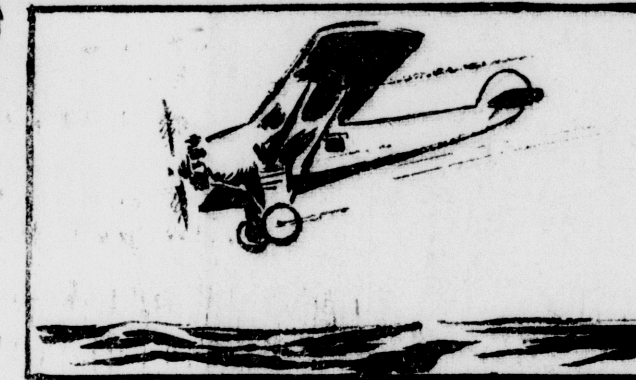

And now kidnapping of their baby son, Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., has added a new tragedy to their list of sorrows.

Lindy's plane collided with another 10,000 feet in the air and he leaped to safety with his parachute.

Millions acclaimed him. Here he is riding down Broadway.

He became a world hero overnight by flying across the Atlantic.

His Plane Overturned at Mexico City

Chinese flood victims mobbed his plane when he brought them medicine.

They came home sadly by ship after Mrs. Lindbergh's father died.

"10 PER CENT SLASH" SERMON THEME OF REV. VALIANT SUN.

The Rev. Edgar A. Valiant's sermon subject for tomorrow evening at the First Baptist church is in keeping with the situation in which a railroad community finds itself at this time. He will discuss "The Ten Per Cent Cut," and extends a cordial invitation to all railroad officials and shopmen to hear his message. Rev. Valiant assures his congregation of a surprise at the above service.

At the morning worship and communion service the minister will speak on "A Comprehensive Message."

The church school will meet in open assembly at 9:45 a. m. for the usual monthly missionary session, which will be followed by class study.

At 2:30 p. m. Rev. Valiant will conduct a service at the Mill Mission in N. E. Brainerd.

Ministerial Ass'n to Plan Holy Week Services

Observance of Holy Week will be discussed by the Ministerial Association at a meeting to be held in the Y. M. C. A. at 10:30 o'clock Monday.

STANDARD BEARERS PROGRAM FEATURES METHODIST SERVICE

Standard Bearers of the Methodist church will have charge of the 7:45 o'clock evening service featuring a treatise of "The Meaning of Lent" by Esther Bauer.

A violin duet by Maybelle Lind and Elsie Rosenkrans and vocal selections by Marjorie Forsberg will also be heard on the program.

Mrs. John Zander, head of the Women's Missionary society, will tell of the work of the Standard Bearers. At the evening service, the Rev. F. A. Kufus, pastor, will have an interesting sermon topic.

The choir under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Moulster will sing "Seek and You Shall Find." O. A. Olson, tenor, will also be heard in several numbers.

MUCH WORK DONE ON SECONDARY ROADS

CONSTRUCTION IN 1931 BRINGS STATE AID MILEAGE IF GRAVELED ROADS TO 13,403

A total of 606 miles of grading, 971 miles of gravel surfacing, 34 bridges, 120 miles of bituminous treatment and 1.6 miles of pavement was completed on the state aid highways of Minnesota in 1931, according to figures compiled by the State Highway department from reports of the county highway engineers. Total expenditures for construction were $2,617,852 and for maintenance $2,983,946.

Of this amount the state contributed $1,089 for construction and $678,097 for maintenance. From the one mill state aid fund. The state aid roads constitute the main secondary roads and are under county control with state supervision. They are distinct from the county aid roads which receive state aid from the one-third of the gas tax allotted to the counties.

Due to the large amount of trunk highway construction during the year, an unusual number of roads used as temporary trunk highways were returned to the state aid status during year. Commissioner C. M. Babcock explained. Several county roads have also been designated as state aid roads during the year. This has been offset by the transfer of a number of roads from the state aid to the county aid class. The status of the state aid system at the end of the year, and comparative figures for the previous year are as follows:

	End of 1930	End of 1931
Pavement	95	103
Bituminous gravel and macadam	101	215
Gravel surfaced	12,496	13,403
Sand-clay surfaced	404	289
Graded, unsurfaced	1,365	1,029
Unimproved	1,704	1,454
	16,165	16,493

Figures on county aid and township roads have not yet been compiled, but it is believed that proportionately good progress will be shown in these classes of roads.

The Golden Text is: "O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong" (Daniel 10:19).

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon, is the following passage from the Bible: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of tabt man is peace" (Psalms 37:37).

Also included in the Lesson-Sermon is the following quotation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The human capacities are enlarged and perfected in proportion as humanly gain the true conception of man and God" (p. 258).

BOYCOTT THE JAPS?—

Once in a while, when a fire starts in a crowded city block, firemen dynamite certain houses in the path of the flames in order to save the rest of the buildings from destruction. It is a good stunt—provided that they are careful to keep the dynamite from doing more damage than the fire itself.

One is reminded of that, somehow, by the proposal that the United States should use the economic boycott to force Japan to give up unwarranted aggression in the Far East and respect the sanctity of treaties.

The end in view is laudable. The boycott itself, however, is dynamite. It would have to be handled with extreme care.

Those who favor using the boycott present their case about as follows:

Unless some definite and effective pressure is put upon the Japanese government, it is futile to hope that Japan will give up her militaristic adventure in China. So far, the authorities at Tokio have shown unmistakably that mere diplomatic protests have no power to move them.

The boycott is a form of pressure that would have a direct and positive effect on Japan's economic life.

Silk is Japan's most important export and the United States is by far Japan's most important customer. If the United States should suddenly stop buying silks, Japan's business and industrial world would suddenly begin to stagnate. The most reactionary and militaristic of governments would be unable to go on with the Chinese adventure in the face of the protests that Japan's industrial, financial and labor leaders would be sure to voice.

Furthermore, Japan's disregard of treaties and of the opinion of the other world powers is extremely flagrant. As Professor Edwin W. Kemmerer of Princeton remarks, if the world permits a military faction like that now in power in Japan to go its own way in spite of world disapproval, "there is little hope for progress in disarmament and for progress in world peace for a long time to come."

Such well-informed and influential citizens as Newton D. Baker, President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard and Professor F. W. Taussig, famed economist, have endorsed the boycott. As an effective means of upholding treaties and preserving world order, they say, it is worth trying.

For that reason, the economic boycott might well be the most dangerous instrument the United States could use; it might easily lead directly to war with Japan, with ultimate consequences that no man can foresee.

In such a war, waged in the Far East, the advantages would all be with Japan—in the beginning, at any rate. The United States navy would be put under a tremendous handicap if compelled to operate on a major scale that far from home.

President Hoover and most of the leading members of Congress have warned the United States of these dangers inherent in the boycott. If the whole world could be induced to join the move, it might succeed. But the other nations almost certainly would not join. The United States would have to go it alone—and the consequences might be catastrophic.

DE VALERA AGAIN—

Several years ago the ordinary American citizen, when he thought of the affairs in the Irish Free State, more or less took it for granted that Eamonn de Valera was out of the picture. The moderate faction in Irish politics seemed to have the upper hand, and the man who had battled so earnestly for Irish independence was apparently through for good.

And now, suddenly emerging again, Mr. deValera comes to the top as the next president of the Free State.

Evidently it is a hard thing to make a has-been of a man who doesn't know when he is licked. That Mr. de Valera comes in that category is obvious. The Irish, loving a steadfast fighter, have given him at last the highest place that is in their power to give. The world will watch with interest to see what he does with it.

AN APPALING TOLL—

Nearly all industrial eye accidents are preventable. Yet more than 2,000 American workmen lose the sight of one or both eyes each year through accidents, and more than 300,000 suffer less serious injuries to their eyes. In fact, more people are permanently robbed of their sight by occupational hazards than through any other single cause.

These facts were brought out the other day by speakers at a safety conference held in New York under the auspices of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness; and they deserve the earnest attention of employers and employees everywhere.

Safety education campaigns among workers can do much to cut down this toll. In some plants, too, it has been found advantageous to order all workers to wear goggles. But whatever needs to be done, it is obvious that both labor and management must tackle the problem together. The present toll is an appalling one.

AN ENCOURAGING SIGN—

One encouraging sign in the midst of hard times is noted by the Magazine of Wall Street in its current issue, when it points out that during January more new business enterprises were begun in New York state than in any other single month in the past two years.

This indicates that an increasing number of people are gaining confidence that the worst is over and that the long upward pull is beginning. More important, perhaps, as the magazine points out, it also indicates that an increasing number of jobless people are finding it possible to adapt themselves to changed conditions and are setting out to make a living on their own hook.

How far away prosperity may be is something no one can say. But this little report from New York is one of the most encouraging straws that recent months have provided.

The dine-a-dance girl

By Joan Clayton

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beautiful ELLEN ROSSITER, a salesgirl in Barclay's Department Store, works nights as a dance hall hostess at Dreamland. She lives with her extravagant mother, MOLLY ROSSITER, her elder sister, MYRA, and her young brother, MIKE.

STEVEN BARCLAY, 37 and Ellen's employer, loves the girl but she is in love with LARRY HARTWIG, an artist who has met at Dreamland. She loves her heart to him in spite of the fact that he is engaged to ELIZABETH BOWEN, a debutante.

Ellen is unwilling to wound Barclay but when scandalous gossip is circulated at the store, she determines to see him no more. However, Molly Rossiter, anxious for Ellen to marry a rich husband, invites him to dinner. Molly borrows money to make the apartment attractive and this infuriates Ellen. She and Molly prepare the dinner while Myra and BERT ARMSTEAD, Myra's fiancé, entertain the guests. Barclay gives Mike a bicycle, and the boy is delighted but Ellen is seriously displeased. The dinner party gets off to a bad start.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII

THE dinner, off to such a bad start, was soon a jolly, friendly affair. The food was excellent and not, as Ellen had feared in the beginning, too elaborate. She had omitted the pate and had firmly vetoed Molly's suggestion that the lobster be served in the shell. They began the meal with lobster cocktail, cool and delicious and served with one of Ellen's famous sauces. Then there was the roast duck, cupping and accurately seasoned. The vegetables, green corn with peppers and peas and broccoli, were served with cream sauces.

Ellen had managed everything so that the dinner seemed a great deal simpler than it was.

Bert, firmly prevented from discussing baseball, was encouraged to talk of his really amazing knowledge of literature. Myra and Ellen, invariably controversialists, were soon gaily wrangling with him over the rightful place of some of his favorites. Where would Sinclair Lewis be in 100 years? A historian of his age or completely forgotten? How about Hemingway?

They argued while Molly, a proud smile in her eyes, looked at Barclay as if to demand whether her daughters were not the cleverest in the world. Steven, silent at first and not quite understanding how the game was played, entered one or two suggestions only to see them torn to bits and flung back at him altered almost beyond recognition.

He learned quickly; warmed to their youthful vigor. Soon he was defending his position as valiantly as they defended theirs. He caught Myra's and Ellen's attention when he mentioned his acquaintance with several of the authors under discussion. They demanded more and then more.

Before he knew it, he was talking of places he had been and people he had met. He sketched Monte Carlo for them and told of little French towns where life moved just as it had 300 years before. He recreated the color of glittering banners and spun tales of adventures, princesses, statesmen and scoundrels he had known.

ELLEN forgot her resentment of the man under the spell of the pictures he drew. Oh, it would be fun to travel, to see the gray spires of Paris and to wander in the cool depths of the Black Forest.

The little group ignored the passage of time as they proceeded further and further into the fascinating exploration of one another's minds. Finally there came an interruption.

It was the colored maid again. "I've waited and waited," she announced mournfully. "I want my $5. I got to go home."

They all laughed and struggled from the table. Ellen became aware that the room was stiflingly hot. Troubles which had been put away for a moment came back. What was to happen now? The colored maid had been so long gone that she had been a nuisance to the guests.

The odors though were close and real. The good sharp smell of water and grass; the friendly smell of Steven's cigar; the intangible, mysterious smell of the night itself. There were the mournful sounds of steamboat whistles and the gentle lapping of water. There were the low voices of lovers whispering on hidden beaches.

Gradually there stole over Ellen a sense of luxury and well being. She had been foolishly, almost hysterically reluctant to go out alone with Steven, apprehensive lest he should say to her what she so ardently desired should go unsaid.

Now those fears, those fears and apprehensions were lost as were her fears of the ultimate destination of her family. It was enough to sink back among soft cushions and to drink in the magic beauty of the evening.

"It's not true, is it?" she asked Steven dreamily as she stared out across the water. "Nothing could be so lovely and still be true."

"That's rather a hard philosophy, don't you think?"

"Oh, I don't know." Her laugh in the darkness was uncertain. She had been entirely at ease. Now she wondered if he were thinking her childish and immature. She was never quite sure of herself when she was with him.

It was hard to forget that he was Steven Barclay, owner of Barclay's Department Store, hard to forget that he was a great deal wiser than she—a great deal older.

How presumptuous she herself had been to imagine that she was sentimentally interested in her. He was Steven Barclay!

BUT if she could have read Barclay's thoughts she would have known that she was wrong. He, too, was self-conscious. It was only that age had taught him to SOMEWHAT to his own surprise Bert did not accompany Ellen and Steven on the drive. He did not understand entirely how it happened that instead he took Myra to a neighborhood movie theater. Ellen could have told him. As usual, Molly had managed. The girl's cheeks were burning.

THE OPEN FORUM

To the Editor Daily Dispatch:

This hoarding talk seems like a hoax, a blind or else just the mouthings of a moron. Most of the banks have more currency than ordinarily but that's not hoarding, and many folks that can't keep their checking account over $50 do their own banking, but that wouldn't be hoarding.

The only thing that hasn't consistently fallen in price for the last two years has been gold, and as all of our money is supposed to mean gold it would seem that that is the only safe investment. Most of the currency that comes our way doesn't have anything about gold on it. On the greenbacks it says, This note is legal tender at its face value for all debts, public and private, except duties on imports and interest on the public debt. On the dollar bill it says, One silver dollar. This certificate is receivable for all public dues and when so received may be reissued.

Seems like they are traveling under false colors. They would answer the purpose for most of us without the false value.

If the false value were taken off there would be no excuse for hoarding, only gold. As far as I'm concerned they could hoard it all they wanted to if I could get a little of the other money. Have sacrificed most all I want to the good golden god, and hope he will be as good as Abraham's god, and relent before I have to make human sacrifice.

Yours truly,
DAN GORDON.

To the Editor of Daily Dispatch:

I read the piece in your Daily Dispatch of the 2nd day of March that the Game and Fish department wishes volunteers to distribute about seven millions of pike fingerlings on or about April 1st. This is some more of the bunk that has been handed out to the public for the last 30 years. I consider it is about time that the public at large get interested enough to find out why the public funds can be wasted on such a miserable excuse for fish propagation. Let's investigate: a pike fingerling is supposed to be a pike minnow about 2 1/2 to 3 inches in length or as long as your finger's length, etc. The state has not got any pike fingerlings and cannot possibly obtain any at this time even if they paid more than they were worth and several millions of them would take up more room in containers than the state could ever hope to get ready even had they the pike fingerlings to distribute. So why fool the people into believing such bunk? Why pervertate? Tell the truth. I have tried to show the state game and fish commission where there system was wrong. Do I get any results? No. Why, because it is a political, influential job and they want to hold their jobs. Can you blame them? I don't. But I do blame the majority of the public and public spirited business men if they are any interested in game and fish enough to investigate and find out why there is no visible increase after all the millions of pike they claim they have propagated and distributed into said lakes, where did they all go? Does anyone realize what one million pike means and how long it would take to catch them with a hook and line or spear, etc. Don't be fooled or misled into believing any such bunk about pike fingerlings because their isn't any going to be distributed this April 1st and what's more they never have distributed any yet and the stuff they call pike spawns that they have the audacity to get people to put into the lakes and streams are a sickly mess of insects and are swallowed just as soon or within 24 hours after they are dumped into any stream or lake inhabited by any other fish or minnows.

Gold Reserves in France Make Record Increase

Paris, March 4.—(UP)—Gold reserves of the Bank of France made a new record increase this week as the bank continued its policy of withdrawing credits in the United States. Total gold reserves of the bank now amount to 75,059,297,227 francs ($2,857,336,219), an increase of 1,244,490,924 francs over the previous week. Proportion of gold to liabilities rose to a new high of 67.18, against 66.36 a week ago. Most of the $40,000,000 in gold coins recently shipped to Europe from the United States is believed hidden. Several million dollars worth of Dutch florins also have been hoarded.

STATE CAUCUS TO ATTRACT G. O. P.'S TO ST. PAUL MARCH 19

State issues and state candidates will occupy the spotlight at the Republican conference to be held in the St. Paul Auditorium, March 19. "The state-wide conference has been called to develop a unified program among Minnesota Republicans for dealing with state problems," E. L. McMillan, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, said. "We are going to concern ourselves at the March gathering solely with the state problems and with state candidates."

Mr. McMillan's statement emphasized that the national political situation insofar as Minnesota was concerned would be dealt with at the regular state Republican convention scheduled for April 30. The selection of the seven delegates-at-large to the Republican National Convention will be done at the April 30 meeting and will not be brought before the state-wide conference in March in any way, he declared.

"Right now the Republican State Central Committee in Minnesota is concentrating on the local problem," Mr. McMillan pointed out. "We are concerned with re-organizing our county committees, with finding the strongest and most competent candidates for the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, and the other posts to be filled in November. And we are particularly anxious to draft a platform which will be truly representative of the constructive, sound principles which the party has always stood for in this state. When these matters have been cleared up and definitely settled, the State Convention, meeting six weeks later, will be able to address itself to the national situation unhampered."

The calls for the precinct caucuses and the county conventions have already been issued to every county by the State Central Committee and these gatherings will be held on March 15 and March 19, respectively. Each to decide for itself as to whether it county convention has been authorized will elect two separate delegations, one for the state-wide conference and one for the state convention, or whether it shall authorize one delegation to attend both meetings.

Republican groups throughout the state have responded enthusiastically to the call for the state-wide conference, Sam S. Haislet, secretary of the State Central Committee, reports.

"The manner in which the Republican leaders in various communities have taken hold of the preliminary work for the conference is very encouraging," Mr. Haislet said. "Every one of the 87 counties will be represented by a full delegation. We will have the most militant party gathering that Minnesota Republicanism has known in recent years, and we will emerge from the conference with a strong slate of candidates and a real party platform."

Mrs. A. C. Farrar arrived from Duluth last night on business.

Harry Patek went to St. Paul this morning for a few days business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hoffman returned last night from their visit to the Twin Cities.

Mrs. George E. Thomas of this city left today for Milwaukee, called there by the illness of a sister.

The Northern Pacific Library Association will give a party and entertainment at their rooms in the office building at the shops on the evening of April 5th.

Brainerd is getting all the trains today. An east bound extra left the track near Randall early this morning and twenty-five freight cars are piled up on the track. The track is so badly blocked that it is necessary to send all trains around this way and it is said that it will take all night and perhaps part of Friday to clear the track.

Dr. Walter Courtney left last night when coming down the steps at the Sanitarium and hurt his leg quite badly, but is able to be about today although feeling sore.

M. Summers, who has been here from Ohio visiting at the home of F. Hendrick, returned home today.

A beautiful line of French voile skirts, new chiffon Panamas, worsted skirts, poplins, utesines and all wool batiste arrived for the spring season yesterday.

Thoughts for Lent

"A Certain Man at Lystra" (Read Acts 14:1-10.)

This man, a cripple, illustrates the effect of radiant religion upon those who possess it. By his simple faith he stands out in strong contrast on the one hand, to the mob that could not see the Light and, on the other, to the crowd, that say it unclearly. Faith is a matter, primarily, of personal experience; and can be quickened to activity, only in the secret places of our spiritual solitude. So it was with that certain man at Lystra. Faith began as a matter between each self and God through Christ. Not until it has been stirred, and then established in the soul, does it come naturally forth to shine as a beacon before men.

Prayer: O God, our Father, help us to keep closer to Thee. When we are lured by the fascination of crowds, let Thy spirit hold us fast. When we begin to follow the blind who lead the blind, let Thy Light draw us back into the pathway of Thy Truth. Grant, we pray, that our trust may remain simple and steadfast; so that always and everywhere we may be faithful to the high calling to which we have been called through Jesus our Lord. Amen.

PURDUE-WILDCATS IN TITLE FIGHT TONIGHT

BRAINERD, FALLS DROP HARD FOUGHT SEMI-WINDUP GAMES

WARRIORS FAIL TO BREAK UP 5 MINUTE STALL GAME, LOSE ON PERSONALS

Crosby-Ironton and Staples, each with hard earned victories behind them, engage tonight in the finals of the 25th district basketball tournament at the Washington high school gymnasium.

Exciting Windup

Slim margins decided their promotions last night in a wildly exciting semi-windup of a great basketball tournament.

Staples nosed out Brainerd 19-17 while Crosby-Ironton advanced by reason of a 28-27 win over Little Falls.

The games were repetition of the nervous excitement for fans that has prevailed in district cage tournaments in this district for several years.

Free Throws Win for Staples

Staples won on its superior ability to net free throws since Brainerd scored seven field goals as against their opponents four. Seven years have elapsed since Staples entered the finals for a chance at the championship. Each year the team provided close, hard competition, missing out by margins of few points. In the majority Brainerd has blocked their path to greater laurels. This year the situation reversed.

Crosby-Ironton enters the finals again this year as in the past seven years but in none of these years did the Rangers experience such a hard, uphill fight.

Rated greatly superior to the teams in its bracket, Crosby-Ironton came in for a near upset at the hands of Wadena. Advancing a notch and doped to win easily from Little Falls, the boys from the mining towns struck another snag last night. The downriver boys played headup ball all the way.

Staples Stalls

It is generally believed that Crosby will hit its peak tonight and Staples will be unable to survive the onslaught. With breaks, Staples stands a good chance to come through.

Staples executed a five minute closing stall game so perfectly that to recover the ball Brainerd was forced to foul. Two of the gift shots from these fouls went through the hoop to provide the only scoring in the final quarter.

Brainerd held a slight lead up to the closing seconds of the third quarter when a field goal tied the count, 17 all.

Brainerd fans waited hopefully even into the last minute of play for that break that would net them points.

The games last night brought into competition two of the outstanding centers in the district. SENTRY, the only center in the district who can outjump PERPICH, hit a fast stride to give Little Falls their only opportunity of holding Crosby-Ironton. SENTRY hit the hoop for five field goals. PERPICH, who reached a slump in the Wadena game, recovered to find the cage for five field goals and two free throws.

Brainerd's defeat is blamed directly to its inability to score free throws. The team scored three free throws and missed seven chances. Staples sunk 11 gift shots out of a possible 16. CARD, Staples center, scored one hundred percent from the free throw line, accounting for four.

Both teams clicked well on floor work but the tightness of both defense zones cut down the number of shots.

Brainerd lead 9-4 at the quarter, 13-10 at the half. While the Warriors were substituted freely in an endeavor to find the strongest scoring punch, Staples kept their five man starting lineup in the game to the close.

Hoover to Enter Name in Primary in Ohio

Washington, March 5.—(U.P.)—Postmaster General Brown at the White House today confirmed reports that President Hoover's name will be entered in the Ohio primaries this spring.

Babe Declares Himself Failure After Losing Golf Match to Joe Kirkwood, Trick Putter

New York, March 4.—(U.P.)—Mister Joe McCarthy probably didn't realize it and chances are he couldn't have done anything about it if he had, but his hopes of bringing the Yankees home in front this year were powerfully endangered when he okayed Babe Ruth's joining in an informal foursome with Billy Burke, Gene Sarazen and Joe Kirkwood a few days ago.

Babe, my ballclub scout informed me, stepped up to the first tee with a look on his honest pan that could mean but one thing—that he was out to show the national open champion and his noted pals how to play this here game of golf.

Sad to relate Babe wound up in a position which is often described as behind the eight ball. The man had shot an 81, the poorest score of the lot. Those of you who know the big

WINNERS DECIDED SCHOOLS LEAGUES

Finals were played in three local schools leagues Friday afternoon at the Washington high school gymnasium.

The Wisconsin cagers won over Florida, 4-3, in the National league to keep their record clean.

The Tommies beat the Andys, 20-12, in the National league while the Wolverines went undefeated by scoring a 6-4 win over the Tigers in the Animal league.

Indiana Looms as Threat In Track, Field Events

Chicago, March 5.—(U.P.)—Indiana's strongest track team in history today declared itself a dangerous contender for the Western conference indoor title after easily defeating Minnesota, Chicago, Northwestern and Purdue.

The Hoosiers grabbed most of the distance runs and scored 44 points in nine of the 10 events conducted in Chicago's new field house, before 1,000 persons. Minnesota was second with 34-3-4, Chicago counted 17-3-4, Northwestern eight, Purdue five.

Fields Loses Decision to Boston Welterweight

Boston, March 5.—(U.P.)—Johnny Indrisano, Boston's hard-luck welterweight, won a 10-round decision over Jackie Fields, Chicago, world's welterweight champion, in a non-title bout last night.

Though the verdict of two judges and referee was unanimous, the local boxer's last round surge just earned him a share in a torrid bout.

The champion rocked the local boxer several times with hard punches to the head, but at no time was either boxer in distress.

Fields weighed 148½ and Indrisano 151-1-4.

Adolph Heuser, Germany, outpointed Rosy Rosales (8); Charlie Longo, 148, Boston, outpointed Pat Munroe, 151, Boston (4).

Father of Agriculture Commissioner Succumbs

Hanley Falls, Minn., March 5.—(U.P.)—Halvor Trovatten, 83, father of R. A. Trovatten, state commissioner of agriculture, died last night after a short illness. Trovatten was one of the leading farmers of the region. He was born in Norway.

man's pride in his game and what a hard loser he is, be it bridge, golf, baseball, drop the handkerchief or postoffice, need not be told that the 84 was a tremendous blow to his morale.

But his misery didn't stop here. I forgot to tell you that Kirkwood, in beating the Babe by a stroke, used nothing but a regulation putter for every stroke, drives, approaches, pitches and putts.

My operative reports that Babe was a touching sight as he trudged along the 18th fairway, that he kept muttering to himself something about "I'm a failure, a great, big, old failure. Me. Beaten by a young mugg with a putter. A little of short-handed, straight-faced putter, and him a good for nothing trick shot artist who spends his time knocking balls off caddies' heads and watch crystals!"

Retired Marine Head to be Senate Candidate

Harrisburg, March 5.—(U.P.)—General Smedley Darlington Butler, retired marine officer today announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania, with "the backing of Governor Pinchot."

Butler will be a "dry" candidate for the nomination for which U. S. Senator James J. Davis already has announced.

CHISHOLM, GLENCOE, TWO HARBORS, C.-I. PROBABLE WINNERS

St. Paul, March 5.—(U.P.)—Three favorites survived the finals last night and other state high school basketball teams ran true to form in play in all parts of the state as the state high school tournament neared the end of district eliminations.

Chisholm, a perennial favorite, today was the district 29 finalist and was a strong favorite for the regional tournament at Virginia next week. The Chisholm team, which has lost but one game this year, defeated Nashauk, 12 to 8 in a finals game. Starbuck was finalist in No. 22, while Bemidji won district 30's elimination.

Two Harbors, Glencoe, Winona, Crosby-Ironton, pre-tournament favorites, advanced into the second rounds of their district contests.

The biggest upset of the night's play was the defeat of Rochester by Winona by a score of 14 to 12. Scores included:

District 1. Lanesboro 28, Wykoff 14; Houston 20, Chatfield 18; Harmony 30, Caledonia 8.

MAC MILLAN NAMES TWO GOPHERS ON HIS ALL-STAR QUINTETS

Minneapolis, Minn., March 5.—(U.P.)—Two Minnesotans were named by Coach Dave MacMillan of the University of Minnesota on his first and second Big Ten basketball teams for the United Press.

Virgil Licht, sharpshooting guard, was moved up from his back court position by MacMillan to a forward berth on the all Big Ten team.

Captain Mike Cielusak, whose close guarding has been a feature of the Minnesota team's play, was placed on the second team.

MacMillan's selections:

First Team
Reiff, Northwestern, forward.
Licht, Minnesota, forward.
Daniels, Michigan, center.
Zeller, Indiana, guard.
Wooden, Purdue, guard.

Second Team
Eveland, Michigan, forward.
Keller, Purdue, forward.
Hellmich, Illinois, center.
Cielusak, Minnesota, guard.
Hoffer, Ohio State, guard.

Spring Season Opening Favorable to Farmers-Hyde

Washington, March 5.—(U.P.)—Re-writing and careful editing did not remove the bloom from the department of agriculture's monthly report on the agricultural situation. Good weather was the only silver lining reported by the bureau of agricultural economics.

Secretary of Agriculture Hyde is very anxious not to exaggerate the woes of the farmer. It was three days after the board first made its report to him before a release was ready for publication.

"The spring season is opening favorably for farm work," is the opening note of the report. "But," it continues, "the markets are laboring between large supplies and sharply reduced purchasing power of consumers."

Montreal, March 5.—(U.P.)—The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways have notified the Commercial Telegraphers' union that for one year commencing April 1 a straight salary deduction of 10 per cent will be introduced in the pay of the commercial telegraphers.

W. C. Lucas, general chairman of the union, announced he awaited advice from them before deciding what reply will be made to the railways. Seventeen hundred employees of the Canadian National and 1,500 Canadian Pacific employees are affected.

NORTHWESTERN WIN WOULD BRING TIE WITH PURDUE FIVE

Chicago, March 5.—(U.P.)—The title crown or a share in the honor will be the prize tonight when Northwestern and Purdue play in the sold-out dramatic climax to the western conference basketball race.

The Boiler-makers, already once victor over Northwestern the title defender, are favored to grab the undisciplined lead. A victory for the Wildcats would assure them at least a tie for the title.

At LaFayette Purdue overwhelmed the Wildcats 48 to 33, but Northwestern will be playing on its home floor tonight with everything to win. They have won nine games and lost two. Purdue has won the same number, but lost only one contest. The Wildcats close their season tonight. Purdue still must play Chicago, the cellar occupant, next Monday night.

Northwestern lacks the speed of the veteran Boiler-maker squad but depends upon Joe Reiff, defending individual scorer, to regain his shooting eye. They won three narrow one-point victories at Evanston.

Purdue's attack will be led by the sensational Johnny Wooden, All-American guard who leads the conference in scoring. Co-Capt. Harry Keller and Eddy.

Minnesota's game with Iowa at Iowa City also will draw much interest though the real climax is centered at Evanston. The Gophers are in third place but must win both the contest tonight and their concluding game against Wisconsin Monday to tie for second should Northwestern lose.

In the two other games tonight, Illinois plays Chicago here and Indiana meets the Badgers at Madison, Wisconsin, in its worst season in years, may upset the Hoosiers but Chicago is expected to end its record with 11 losses against one victory.
